Legal worries in Spain ... and how to get a friendly voice on your side

If you get involved in an accident or another legal problem in Spain, you could find several hurdles standing in the way of justice.

Just think of the language barriers. You have to deal with regional and local officials who may not speak your language or Spanish legal terms for which there is no English translation.

No wonder many UK consumers get lost in the maze of Spanish regulations and authorities. The Spanish laws and institutions are simply not the same as in Britain.

When you need it most

With Irwin Mitchell Abogados you are sure to get a friendly voice on your side when you need it most.

Our lawyers are genuinely bi-lingual and used to working with UK citizens in Spain. We listen to you to find the cause of your problem. Based on this information, we find solutions.

We speak your language

In plain English, we tell you what the best solution is and why we suggest it. We explain what other solutions will do for you and how Spanish and UK laws affect your case.

Following your decision on the preferred course of action, we continue working with you to solve your problem, meanwhile taking the stress out of your situation.
